BECOMING A SILVER LISTENER

Silver Stories: Communicating across the generations

“Wonderfully simple but with the most incredibly positive impact for both Silver Listeners and Silver Readers.”

This is how Silver Stories has been described.

What is Silver Stories?

Children (known as Silver Readers) telephone an older member of the community (known as a Silver Listener) every week and then read a short story or poem to them.

This not only helps the children to become more confident in their reading skills but also links our children to the older members of our communities providing an enriching and positive experience for both the Reader and the Listener.

Get in touch directly from the website at www.silverstories.co.uk,
or email us at: info@silverstories.co.uk

“I give it 10/10. It was so helpful in a difficult and uncertain time. My Reader reads really well and I really enjoy it.”

If you think that you would like to take part as a Silver Listener, either your care provider or the charity Silver Stories can link you with a school and a child from that school will call you each week.

All you need is to want to take part, the time to take the call, a comfy chair, cup of tea and a telephone.
